

Child and Family Outpatient Services

in Rocky Hill

For children, teens and their families life can be real hard. We offer real hope.

Real life is filled with challenges that aren't easy to handle. Coping with issues like abuse, drugs, family conflict, illness, loss of an important relationship or problems in school can be real hard. When issues continue, emotional and behavioral problems may develop. For children, this can mean acting out at home, in school, or in the community. If emotional or behavioral problems, substance abuse, or significant stress is part of a child's life, CHR is ready to help.
